Message from the chairman

In this review you will see how far we have strengthened our capacity to facilitate cooperation in global research and to advocate for the rights of people affected by MS. We have also expanded the range of languages we use for our publications and communications.

Thank you for your support – we could not have done this without you.

In 2007...

Support the development of effective national MS societies

- We supported the Mexican MS Society at the Second National Meeting of Patients with MS, in Mexico City, Mexico (pictured).
- We attended national MS society events in Belgium, Canada, Czech Republic, Denmark, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, UK and the USA.
- We provided regular advice and assistance to new and developing MS organisations worldwide, including Ecuador, Montenegro, Saudi Arabia, Sri Lanka and Syria. www.msif.org/nationalsupport
- Details about 11 projects were added to our Quality of Life Principles Practice Database by MS societies in Argentina, Canada, Germany, Spain and the USA.

Stimulate research into the understanding, treatment and cure of MS

- The International Medical & Scientific Board was restructured and we recruited an International Medical & Scientific Research Officer, who will be responsible for all MSIF research-related programmes. www.msif.org/imsb
- With the US National MS Society (NMSS) we co-funded and co-hosted the Stem Cell Research Summit in San Francisco (pictured).
- We supported an international Biomarkers in MS (BioMS) meeting and a meeting of the European Magnetic Imaging in MS (MAGNIMS) network.
- We awarded the Charcot Award to Professor Alastair Compston, who gave the Charcot Lecture at the ECTRIMS meeting. www.msif.org/charcot
- We awarded eight Du Pré Grants, enabling young researchers to learn new skills through collaborative research projects in Australia, Austria, USA and the UK. www.msif.org/dupre
- We launched the McDonald Fellowships, awarding fellowships with a combined value of over £250,000 to five promising young MS researchers from Argentina, Brazil, Romania, Spain and Thailand. www.msif.org/mcdonald
- We facilitated the development of the International Pediatric Multiple Sclerosis Study Group (IPMSSG) with the unifying vision to optimise worldwide care, education and research in paediatric MS and other acquired inflammatory demyelinating disorders of the central nervous system (CNS). www.ipmssg.org

Communicate knowledge, experience and information about MS

- We made our World of MS (WoMS) 'mini' websites available in Chinese, Greek, Japanese and Portuguese.
- MS in focus was downloaded 334,000 times across all issues and languages. www.msif.org/msinfocus
- The French-speaking societies' translation of MS in focus is well underway, with issues 1–5 available summer 2008.
- Subscriber figures for our weekly e-newsletter Making Connections are above 12,000. www.msif.org/makingconnections
- The Spanish translation of our weekly Research News update, by Xavier Montalban's team in Vall d'Hebron Hospital in Barcelona, is now available from FELEM's website and also features on the NMSS's Información en Español webpages. www.msif.org/news

Advocate globally for the international MS community

- We awarded Susana Carballido Perdigón from Uruguay the 2007 Evelyn Nicholson Award for International Caregiver. Susana visited the MS Argentina headquarters and attended a training course on how to train volunteers and caregivers of people with MS. www.msif.org/nicholson
- We awarded the 2007 James D. Wolfensohn Award for International Person with MS to Ann Langley from Australia (pictured). Ann spoke about the award and her continued work for people with MS in Australia at Prague07. www.msif.org/wolfensohn
- We hosted the Prague07 event, Living with MS: Today and Tomorrow. Delegates from 34 countries heard presentations from MS specialists and people with MS. www.prague07.net
- We advocated for the The United Nations International Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities to become international law and launched an online petition. www.msif.org/unpetition
- We worked with colleagues at the (WHO) to gather data from more than 100 countries to ensure that our Atlas of MS project is truly global in scope. www.atlasofms.org
- Global Dinner Party (GDP) events were held in Australia, Canada, Denmark, Germany, Kenya, the Netherlands, Spain, Switzerland, the UK and the USA raising £63,000. www.msif.org/gdp

Message from our CEO

In 2008 we will build on our strong foundations – with the help of our member societies and our scientific advisers, we will create more connections in innovative global research, continue our efforts to support emerging MS societies and help raise awareness of the global fight for a world without MS.

We look forward to working with you.
